ATTN: Baldwin Hills Scenic Overlook Design Team

PUBLIC WORKSHOP #1 For Baldwin Hills Scenic Overlook

The California Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) in collaboration with the Baldwin Hills Conservancy (BHC) would like to invite you to the first public workshop for the park design at Baldwin Hills Scenic Overlook, a unit of Kenneth Hahn State Recreation Area. The purpose of this workshop is to start the park and facility design process for this 58-acre site. In addition, DPR, BHC and their design consultants (architects, landscape architects, engineers, resource ecologists, historians, archeologists, park staff and interpretive planners) want to learn about your concerns and interests, so that your input helps shape the park design.

Because it is located within a densely populated Los Angeles Basin with spectacular views, the park will provide a much-needed open space amenity for the surrounding communities as well as a haven for the region's natural resources. Being in the midst of a culturally rich area and a park-poor region, this project offers DPR an exciting opportunity to evoke and expand upon its mission within an urban setting:

'To provide for the health, inspiration, and recreation of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most value natural and cultural resources and creating opportunities for high quality outdoor recreation'
